Ajay,

I can understand your position on common excipients but on the ones that are dedicated, it will not be of any use to CoreRx but in turn will facilitate a possible site transfer and possibly reduce the time we will be out of the market given your advice that the supplies from CoreRx will not resume anytime soon. If need be please add the cost of testing these excipients. These excipients are part of the IP of the product as they are dedicated. Please evaluate if you can help us by giving us some quantities.

Will wait to hear from you on Standards and Impurities. Also please confirm if we can pick up [REDACTED] on Monday, 12/12/21?

Regards
venkat

Venkat,

The other excipients were purchased, tested and validated by CoreRx and are our property. They are not available for transfer to another supplier.

I'm looking into availability of standards and impurities.

Still confirming with our Lab how much Imp Std we have, if there is enough to pull and send.

Also, seeing if [REDACTED] can be sampled in time for a Mon (pm) pick-up. I hope to know later today....

Venkat –

We can send some [REDACTED] but the [REDACTED] presents many challenges so sampling and shipping some of that is not an option.

We can send a via or two of Ref Std. There are no Imp standards required for the analytical method.

If this is all to ship together then plan on pick up Tues. Also, we need info about shipment (carrier, ship to address, contact, etc)

Bill,

I would also like to pick up the [REDACTED] if possible. We also need the Impurities and standards- Can you please provide some visibility on those too.

Thanks for your assistance.
